

Eileen M. Volpe, PhD, ARNP-C
Specializing in Adolescent Women, Menopause and Sexual Health

Eileen Volpe received her Doctorate in Pastoral Counseling from Maimonides University in Miami, Florida. She received her Masters in Nursing from the University of Central Florida and her RN from Suffolk Community College in New York. Eileen has earned numerous academic awards, has been published in medical journals and periodicals and is recognized in the Who's Who for American Colleges.

Dr. Volpe is a Certified Nurse Practitioner and Menopause Clinician, Clinical Sexologist and a Lactation Consultant and has over 20 years experience working in Maternal-Child Health. She has been recognized internationally for her work with adolescents in the prevention of sexually transmitted diseases and pregnancy.

Eileen currently practices gynecology with Dr Mark McTammany in Melbourne. She also has a private practice where she provides extensive menopause and sexual health counseling. In addition, she gives lectures both locally and nationally in the field of menopause, lactation and adolescent health.